Jacaynski-Gmeth Wedding - Various Local Happenings.

The marriage of Stanislaus Jacaynski and Miss Mary Gmoch took place at St. Joseph's church at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Many friends were present at the church and selections were rendered by the choir. The bridal couple were attended by Ladislas Gmoch, a brother of the bride, as best man, and Miss Anna Koolowska as bridesmaid. Both the bride and her attendant were gowned in white and carried flowers. Following the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the home of the bride on Sixth street. Mr. and Mrs. Jacaynski will reside on Sixth street. The groom is employed in the plant of the United States Finishing company.

Sunday afternoon at 5.45 o'clock, entrance was gained into two stores on Franklin square, but the amount of goods stolen was not very large, although it is not definitely known just how must was taken. The police are working up the matter and it is probble that arrests will soon be made.

The store of Mrs. Edward Fay was entered by breaking a window at the rear, through which the burgiars got into the store. Knives, balls, gloves, and other articles were taken, the break being reported to the police on Monday morning when the store was opened and the break discovered. It was also reported that the fruit store at the corner of Msin and Ferry street, occupying the basement, had been entered. Here the double doors at the front had been pushed in and a quantity of bananas taken.

MURDERED AT MYSTIC tabbed in Abdomen With Butcher Knife at Ecclesten House—Two Ar-rested and Two Skipped.

CHARLES W. PLACE, COLORED,

Following what was supposed to have been a general rough house at Tom Eccleston's on the Noark road, near Mystic, Charles W. Place, colored, aged 35 was found murdered therethis morning about 2 o'clock. He had been stabled in the abdomen by a latcher knife. Gladys Earl and Ecclesion are held by the authorities, but a man whose first name is supposed to be "Frank" and a woman have escaped and will be followed up today. It is supposed that "Frank" did the stabbing.

The murdered man was dead by the time a doctor who was summoned had arrived.

Officer Faley of Mystic notified the authorities about the vicinity and Deputy Sheriff Casey of Pawcatuck was called, going over there by auto about 2 o'clock this morning. Thomas Eccleston and Gladys Earl, both colored, were put under arrast, teh woman being the housekeeper there. Gladys Earl, although intoxicated, said that the man named Frank, who had skipped with Annie Lewis, was the one who stabbed Place.

Punishable Only by Fine. Punishable Only by Fine.

The basis of the court's opinion was that the proceeding brought against the labor officers was for civil contempt, which could be punished only by the imposition of a fine. The sentence of the lower court to imprisonment was the penalty for criminal contempt, and in the premises, therefore, it was not a legal punishment. The case, which grew out of the socialed boycott of the stove corporation by the American Federation of Labor three years ago is one of the greatest importance to union labor and greatest importance to union labor and the employers of union labor. The supreme court holds that the published or spoken utterance of organized inbor can be enjoined or attacked legally because organized labor is a combination and as such, relinquishes the rights of individuals. It also establishes that legal prosecution can tablishes that legal prosecution can be leveled not only at the union itself but at its officers as well.

Civil Not Criminal Contempt. Justice Lamar devoted considerable space to a technical discussion officivil as differentiated from criminal contempt. In the former only a fine was permissible, he pointed out, whereas in criminal contempt jail sentences could be imposed. The case under consideration, he said, was brought by a corporation in conjunction with a suit in

FREED FROM SKIN DISEASE

"Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct.
13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until his entire face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin. We tried about every advertised remedy without avail, indeed some of them only added to his suffering and one in particular, the Remedy, almost put the infant into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to bathe the baby in buttermilk. This did not do any good, so we took him to a hospital.
He was treated as an out-patient twice a week and he got worse, if anything. We decided that it could not be cured and must run its course and so we just kept his arms bandaged to his side to prevent his tearing his flesh. We left Toronto and shortly after our arrival in Duluth, the Culticura Remedies were recommended. We started using them in May, 1002, and soon the cure was complete.
You would not think he was the same child
for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear
and he is sufficiely free from the skin disease.
There has been no return this time. We still use only Cuticura Soap for baby's beth."

Had the court, whose injunction was disobevel, felt aggrieved, it could have brought criminal contempt proceedings in the premises and inflicted a jall sentence. It did not do this, however, and the opinion held that it erred in imposing in a civil contempt case a penalty applicable only to litigation involving criminal contempt.

The opinion, in conclusion, read:

First, it held that the boyoott is illegal and that a party threatened with injury by one has a right to go to a court of equity for protection against.

"Second, a court of equity has a right to enjoin all acts done in carrying out such a boycott, which extends to printed, written or oral statements. It holds that the constitutional right of free speech and free press affords no protection to the boycotter, that it is the duty of all enjoined by a court of equity to obey the injunction, and that for a violation of it they are liable to a fine by way of indemnity to the party injured, commensurate with the pecuniary damage inflicted, and that further the party violating the injunction is liable to pumishment by way of imprisonment for his contempt of court."

Separated by the Chicago Fire in 1871, Peter C. Sharp of Pittsburg, Kan., and his wife, Anna Catherine Sharp of Oakland, Cal., will be reunit-ed at Pittsburg, Kan., the present week
